Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Gavin Thomas

Originally from England, Gavin moved with his family to central New Jersey at age ten. In 2012, he graduated from Eckerd College with a B.A. in Sociology and Political Science. His time at university cultivated a deep-seeded appreciation for nature, and once graduated, Gavin dove headfirst into the green industry, working for various agriculture and landscaping organizations.

After accomplishing his lifelong dream of hiking the Appalachian Trail, Gavin was enamored of a life spent underneath the tree canopy and decided to pursue a career in arboriculture, which led him to join Bartlett Tree Experts. He quickly became an expert Climber, and held roles as Aerial lift Operator, and Plant Health Care Specialist prior to becoming an Arborist Representative.

Gavin is an ISA Certified Arborist and a Pennsylvania certified Pesticide Applicator.

In his free time, Gavin can be found strumming his guitar on the porch, pondering his next hiking adventure, or tending to his vegetable garden. He and his wife, Emma, hope to instill their love of trees, dirt, and the outdoors in their young daughter.
