Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Matt Coughlin

Matt Coughlin has worked in the green industry for nearly three decades. During his visit to the Bartlett Lab in North Carolina, Matt was impressed by the company's research and training and soon after joined Bartlett Tree as an Arborist Representative. A graduate of Virginia Tech, Matt is a Certified Arborist who is fascinated by trees' relationship to the world around them. He takes great pride in providing the best possible tree care solutions and in maintaining a high level of communication with his clients. His background in horticulture, strong knowledge of trees, and customer service skills make him a natural fit for the area. As the local Arborist Representative, Matt services residential and commercial properties throughout the communities of Annandale and Springfield.
