Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Craig Marchinkoski

Originally trained as an archeologist, Craig is now a licensed arborist. He is from New England and moved to Boulder Canyon in 2014, when he began caring for the trees and shrubs along the Front Range as a climbing arborist.

Since 2019, Craig's expertise in full-service tree care has prompted his transition into diagnostics, sales, and management. He has cared for trees and shrubs and flowers all over the United States and in Central America.

Craig enjoys spending his free time studying literature, film, and Japanese gardening techniques. He also enjoys quality time in nature with his family skiing, camping, and cycling. An animal lover, Craig has two dogs, two cats, and four chickens.
