Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Evan Groskopf-Jones

Originally born in Seattle, Evan moved with his family to Colorado at a young age, where he developed an appreciation for the outdoors and a lasting passion for trees. Evan began his professional career in tree care in 2018, progressing from Groundsperson to Climber and ultimately to Crew Leader, developing strong technical skills and leadership along the way.

Through hard work and a commitment to best practices in tree health care and pruning, Evan earned his ISA Arborist certification. As an Arborist Representative, he brings a shared goal to every client interaction: doing what is best for the trees and the surrounding landscape.

Outside of work, Evan enjoys camping, hiking, and exploring national parks. He values time spent outdoors with his wife and daughter and especially enjoys sharing those experiences with his family.
