Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Nicholas Falcione

Nick Falcione is a second-generation arborist who began his journey in the tree care industry in 2015 during his internship at Essex Agricultural and Technical High School. Inspired by a family legacy in arboriculture, Nick continued to pursue his passion at the Stockbridge School of Agriculture, where he earned both an associate's degree in Arboriculture and Community Forest Management and a bachelor's degree in urban forestry.

Nick is a Massachusetts Certified Arborist and an ISA Certified Arborist with hands-on experience across all aspects of the tree care business. He takes great pride in applying proper arboricultural practices and transforming clients' landscapes with professionalism and care.

When he's not working with trees, Nick enjoys spending time outdoors and serves his community as an on-call firefighter with his local fire department.
