Stephen W. Miller

Stephen's interest in trees began when he was a Boy Scout. His career within the green industry started in high school while working with a small tree company in Connecticut. He graduated with a degree in Forestry Management Technology and a degree in Forestry with an Urban Forestry focus. Stephen has been the local manager for Bartlett Tree Experts in Pittsburgh since 2005.

Stephen is passionate about the promotion of proper arboricultural practices through educational talks to groups from elementary school age to adults at places such as Phipps Conservatory and Botanical Gardens, West Virginia University, garden clubs, and for many other organizations. Stephen is a Board-Certified Master Arborist, Registered Consulting Arborist, Certified Tree Care Safety Professional, and has his Tree Risk Assessment Qualification.

Stephen is married with three children and enjoys time with his family. He is active in his church, serves as an Assistant Scoutmaster, and a soccer coach in his community.
