Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Tyler Balderson

Tyler Balderson has been involved with trees and landscapes his entire life. He grew up in Montgomery County Maryland where he worked on his family tree nursery farm. His father, Andy Balderson, has been practicing landscape architecture in Maryland for over 35 years. Tyler's passion for trees continued through college where he received his B.S. in Forestry from Virginia Polytechnic and State University in 1998. He brought his knowledge back to Maryland and began his career in arboriculture working at Treemasters, a local firm in Howard County, MD. In 2000,

Bartlett Tree Experts acquired the company and Tyler began his 13 year career with the company here in Anne Arundel County, where he is currently the local manager. Tyler is a Board Certified Master Arborist, Maryland Licensed Tree Expert, Maryland Licensed Pesticide Applicator, and Certified Tree Care Safety Professional. Tyler volunteers on the Mid-Atlantic chapter of Arboriculture Board of Directors as well as volunteering at the local elementary school, where his three children attend, teaching students the importance of trees.
